C.G.I.T. Groups Are Active

On the first day of October, Miss Mabel Nix, secretary of the Girls' Work Board for the Province of Alberta, paid a brief but eventful visit to Champion. As a result of her stay with us the girls of the district caught something of Miss Nix's contagious enthusiasm for the activities of that organization known as the C.G.I.T., or The Canadian Girls in Training, which has for its aim the four-fold development of Canadian girls: development physically, socially, intellectually and spiritually. At a meeting the following Tuesday the girls organized into three C.G.I.T. groups: the Senior Group, including girls over 15 years of age, under the leadership of Mrs. Baker; the Intermediate Group, girls from 13 to 15, with Miss Smithson for leader, and the Junior Group, of girls from 11 to 13, under the leadership of Miss Bond.

During the month of October four meetings were held. Each session of the C.G.I.T. groups is divided into four periods, games, singing, devotional period and activity. The activity periods throughout the first month were taken up with the election of officers, inaugurating programmes for the ensuing months and with the making of the code cards.

At the last meeting in October the Dedication Ceremony took place. The girls' group of Champion then became formally united with the larger group of Canadian Girls in Training of the Dominion.

For November the groups have planned separate activities and will be together for only the games and sing-song. The work has received an enthusiastic start and we have high hopes for success in the coming months. (Contributed).

High School Lit Armistice Program

The High School Literary Society commemorated Armistice Day at its meeting on November 11th by a very suitable and effective program.

The meeting was opened at three o'clock with the vice-president, Edna Orr, in charge. During the business period a great deal of work was accomplished and we congratulated Edna for the way in which she handled her first business meeting.

The program proper was opened by the singing of the "Recessional" by the audience. Following this there were a number of tableaux. The first showed a wounded soldier (Fred Puzey) leaning on his gun among the poppies of Flanders. As the tableau was presented Harry Taylor recited "In Flanders Fields."

Helen McCullough played a piano solo while the next tableau was being prepared.

While Edna Orr sang "The Rose of No Man's Land," Sarah Fleming impersonated the Red Cross Nurse of Flanders.

Rheta Campbell and Leola Johnson played a piano solo before the next tableau.

Befitting the sentiment of the day Gretchen McNaughton appeared as "Peace," while Helen Bonarh recited "In Flanders Now."

The tableaux were well presented in their setting of poppies and crosses, the costuming was effective and the character of their interpretation of the scenes conveyed to the audience the spirit of the day.

After the tableaux the now famous "Quartette" rendered two selections sung by the soldiers in France "Ticken's Jam," and "We are Canadians." They were heartily encored.

The "Light of the Lit," that paper so popular among the High School students, was read by the editor, Harold Stephenson, and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Wilfred Daub and Harry Taylor impersonating "Old Bill" and "Bet," reproduced a scene from Bairnsfather's "Better 'Ole." The school children are still chuckling over Bill's dry comment "I wish the 'ole you'd put a cork on the end of that pen of yours."

L.A. Bazaar Saturday, Nov. 26

Everybody is requested to keep in mind the date for the annual bazaar, Thursday, Nov. 26th. The members are working hard to make 1927 the banner year of the Ladies' Aid.

Mrs. R. S. Bond, convener of the fish pond in connection with the Ladies' Aid bazaar, wishes to announce there will be a grab box as well, articles to be worth 25c. Donations will be very gladly accepted for both.

Church Board Will Push Canvass

At a meeting of the United Church Board held this week it was decided to proceed at once with the completion of the canvass of the community to secure $1000, necessary to meet all obligations to the end of the present calendar year. The Board considered at length the delay in returns from this season's crop but decided to ask for promises where a cash subscription could not be expected. Knowing the intention of the people to support the church and having the encouragement of a $100 subscription already turned in, they go now to the people with full confidence.

Thanksgiving Chicken Supper

The chicken pie supper given by the Ladies' Aid on Thanksgiving night was a splendid success in every way and was largely patronized despite a rather stormy evening. Both supper and the entertainment provided were enthusiastically enjoyed by the patrons and the receipts of $120.00 fully justified the extensive preparations made by the ladies. Those in charge wish to thank everyone who attended and also who so willingly assisted in providing the supper and in serving them. Future entertainers of this annual event will be eagerly looked forward to in coming years.

Threshing Weather Still Expected

The cold weather and snow has aroused interest in curling clubs and action will be taken by the club at the earliest possible moment. Last year's operations were not highly successful financially, and it is hoped better results will be secured this year. Should present weather conditions continue there is nothing to prevent having the rink in shape at an early date.

personating "Old Bill" and "Bet," reproduced a scene from Bairnsfather's "Better 'Ole." The school children are still chuckling over Bill's dry comment "I wish the 'ole you'd put a cork on the end of that pen of yours."

The quartette again appeared and sang the Marseillaise after which the meeting was closed by the singing of "God Save the King."

The work of "The Lit." is making itself felt in the High School. It is creating that elusive, subtle, but necessary something which is so essential to school work called "School Spirit." Most of the students are well able to take part in some performance and so feel that they are necessary to school life. The effects are shown in the increase of dependability among the students and the deeper interest which is taken in the school end school work.

Good luck to the Lit., and may all programmes be as successful as that of last Friday.

Will Complete Road To Peace River

As the result of a trip of inspection into the north country by Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works, and J. D. Robertson, deputy minister, it has been decided that further improvement will have to be undertaken on the permanent location of the Peace River Highway before travel will be possible over the road into the north. Prior to being given on the Peace River Highway between Athabasca and McLeod two years ago, the government engineers, after a careful survey, recommended a permanent location for the road which would be improved from year to year. This recommendation was accepted and during 1926 sections of the permanent location was improved in places where there was no trail or where the old trail used by early settlers and trappers was not suitable for motor car traffic. However, where the old trail had been reasonably possible for the past six or seven years and could be used temporarily during the average season and under ordinary weather conditions, the improvement on the permanent location was postponed. Unfortunately during the summer just past, the water of Lesser Slave Lake rose six feet above normal, thereby rendering impossible for traffic the old trail which generally followed the lake shore and making it necessary for the government to proceed immediately with the improvement of the highway on the permanent location which was adopted as such two years ago.

Application of the Produced-in-Canada principle to the purchase of Christmas gifts is being urged on all its members by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. A special card is being prepared for early distribution directing the attention of the 4,200 members of the organization to the desirability of purchasing articles produced in Canada for gifts, instead of imported articles, and suggesting that this policy be recommended to all employees of Canadian factories and their families. It is pointed out that 2,500,000 people in Canada live on the wages paid in Canadian factories, and that if all these ask for "Produced-in-Canada" goods between now and Christmas, a tremendous demand will be created.

The sale of $361,500 worth of Province of Alberta 4 1/2 per cent bonds, due 1946, was made during the week to the Dominion Securities Company of Toronto at the very favorable price of $97.85. Eight offers were submitted by competing firms, and the bids for this large block of provincial securities indicates a keen rivalry for their purchase.

The fourth trainload of horses purchased in the west during the past season by the buying commission of the Soviet government was shipped from Dunmore, Alberta, on Thursday for shipment from Quebec to Leningrad about November 15. This consignment is some 300 head short of a number of districts. More than 3,000 horses will have left Canada for Russia when the ship sails this time, states Louis Kon, who has been in charge of the purchasing commission, and of these fully 75% have been secured in Alberta. Mr. Kon is unable to announce for some time plans for further purchases next season, but states that the Russians have been well pleased with the horses shipped from the west this year.

Alex. Galbraith, of Edmonton, formerly Superintendent of Pairs and Institutes in the Provincial Department of Agriculture, has again been selected to judge the Suffolk horses at the Chicago International Livestock Show. Mr. Galbraith, who is recognized as one of the outstanding horse judges on the continent, has attended the International every year since its organization, with the exception of 1923, when he was abroad on immigration work for the Dominion Government.

Damage amounting to some $9,000 was done on Wednesday last when the 90-foot derrick at the McLeod No. 1 well in Turner Valley was burned to the ground. The cause of the fire, according to the drillers, was the catching of a string of tools which created a spark, igniting the gas. Plans are already under way for the rebuilding of the structure.

One of the largest deals in the history of Alberta ranch property is announced from Calgary where the George Lane Company has sanctioned the sale of the Bar U and Willow Creek ranches with all their stock and equipment to P. Burns and Company. The transaction involves over $750,000.

Local and General

U. P. Ulfsten lost the first joint of his index finger by getting entangled in his separator.

The snowfall this fall exceeds anything for many years in volume and only the absence of high winds has prevented the roads from being absolutely blocked. As it is everything is still broken open and traffic is not seriously impeded, but the roads are very heavy.

Orville Harper threshed 581 bushels per acre from 100 acres. This is the best yield yet handed in this season. Who will beat it?

E. Siler, with a considerable area of hauled wheat which was not worth threshing, is buying hogs to turn into the wheat. Recently he purchased 110 weaners from Albert Anderon, which he will add to the large bunch of hogs he already has as soon as they are ready to turn out.

Care of Trees In Winter

EXPERIMENTAL FARM NOTE

As each spring comes around complaints come in of damage from mice. As much of this can be prevented by precautionary measure taken in the fall we venture once again to remind our readers that the time is now opportune to guard against such loss. This may be accomplished in two ways: (1) by the use of building paper, and (2) by the use of wire or metal protectors. The building paper is a very cheap means of protection from the standpoint of material, but, as it lasts only one season, is extravagant of time through the necessity of wrapping the trees each fall. Single-ply white or grey building paper is used. Tar paper may be used, but is not recommended as there is a possibility of injury to the trees. The paper is cut into strips about six or eight inches wide and the full length of the roll, which is generally about thirty inches. The paper is wrapped fairly snugly around the trunk of the tree and tied with binder twine top and bottom. After tying, a little earth is mounded up around the base to prevent rodents working under the paper. This paper is generally removed in the spring.

The other method, the use of wire or metal, is more permanent, more expensive in material, but cheaper in labor, for the metal protectors last for a long period of years. Fine meshed galvanized wire netting is the most lasting material. It is fastened by small pieces of wire and is made large enough to allow for the trunk expanding as the tree grows.

Another very satisfactory and cheaper material is made from expanded metal, such as is used in building. It is better when both galvanized and dipped in paint, in which state it may be obtained from the factory. This material is fastened around the trunk by small wire fasteners as is the wire netting. It is advisable to stick the ends of these wire protectors in the soil so that there will be no danger of the mice working from underneath.

CONFERENCE OF PREMIERS COMES TO CONCLUSION

Ottawa—Appreciation of each other's viewpoints on a great variety of subjects and a much fuller degree of mutual understanding are foreseen as concrete results of the Dominion-Provincial conference concluded after a full week of deliberation. The gathering, to begin with, was not a conference and possessed of no executive or administrative functions or powers definitely to decide anything. Nevertheless, those who participated feel that the various subjects discussed will, at least in a degree, find a reaction in legislative proposals. Although the delegates were divided on political allegiance, the party element was wholly submerged and the proceedings throughout, despite occasional divergences of view, were devoid of any suggestion of open clash.

The Dominion Government sought collective action on three or four questions while the provinces forth their views on less than a dozen. In neither respect were the conclusions definite nor beyond the mutual exchange of opinion.

At the outset, the question of constitutional reform arose in two places, reform of the Senate and amendment of the British North America Act, otherwise known as the constitution. It is, as held, a change in the making and functions of the Senate require as a conditional precedent, the sanction of the original parties to confederation, the discussions have indicated clearly that such essentials are not likely to be fulfilled.

On similar lines was the division of opinion as to Canada's readiness to permit to itself amend the constitution even though such a process was designed to be circumvented by limitations if any, attempts at amendment invaded the spheres of provincial or minority rights. Nevertheless, it is within the competence of the government to go ahead and such power even though to avail of it would require the consent in some instances of all the provinces and, in others, of two thirds of them. No move, of course, is possible without the approving co-operation of Parliament.

As regards the question of subsidies, the move for a revision was partly general from the provinces and, though Ontario and Quebec, more particularly situated than the rest, were not especially inclined, save to lend support to the demand.

A great deal was said about the delinquency of the provinces of taxation and different provinces were advanced, but the Dominion Government's attitude was expressed in the general statement of the finance minister that all questions of subsidies and taxes will require mature consideration.

Respecting the fuel question, there was considerable demand for a national fuel policy but the argument was largely a re-hash of what has often been heard in the Dominion Government's coal problem arises out of transportation costs, while the problem of Nova Scotia is intensified by production costs. The Dominion Government, apparently is disinclined to go behind the railway commission's finding of the cost of coal movements from Alberta and as regards Nova Scotia it suggests improved production methods of coal. The steel tariff has been before the tariff board.

One result of the conference will be the strengthening of the laws in regard to the import and export of liquor. Immigration, exhaustively dealt with, is to be the subject of an aftermath meeting.

All told, about 90 subjects were discussed with them, the most outstanding. ## Allowed Wave Bands For Directing Aircraft

Canada's Right To Exclusive Bands Recognized By Canada's Right

Washington—Canada's right to exclusive wave bands for the direction of aircraft in the Dominion, has been recognized by the International Radio Conference, and a wide band, sufficient to take care of extensive development of commercial flying in Canada has been not made for the sole use of Canada.

When the question of communication between aircraft and ground stations was under discussion in conference, the Canadian delegates brought up the necessity for the recognition of the needs of aircraft in the Dominion. It was pointed out that in practical application of aircraft for forest protection, survey work and similar useful purposes, Canada led the world. The necessity for a clear band through which aircraft could communicate regularly with ground stations, was recognized as it had been previously recognized in Europe.

"With the additional facilities," a Canadian delegate declared, "Press today," it will be possible to provide not only for the very extensive forest protection operations in the various provinces, but also for all kinds of commercial aircraft enterprises.

TO STRENGTHEN LIQUOR LAWS OF PROVINCES

OTTAWA—Very important negotiations, bearing upon the question of the import and export of liquor, were made during the progress of the discussion on the question of a sitting of the Dominion-Provincial Conference.

The provinces were unanimous in their request for control of the importation of liquor, both where there are liquor control boards and also where there is legal prohibition. Likewise, there was unanimity in demands for a curbing of the operation of liquor export houses.

The announcement, which came from the Federal Government representatives, was that the bill, containing to the provinces the right to import liquor, will be introduced twice already this has been killed by the Senate.

As regards export houses, the understanding is to give them, where provinces so desire, certain bonding privileges will be denied such establishments. Any such policy, if adopted, would be a very large step in the operation of export houses to which are attributed many of the abuses which have arisen in the liquor traffic.

Another proposal of the provinces was for the reduction in the excise duties on liquor. The Minister of Finance declared that the demand for increased subsidies was not quite in consonance with the demand for lower excise duties, but stated that the Government was willing to listen to reason.

There was discussion on judges and a majority of the speakers favored higher salaries and uniformity in retirement of judges but little attention was paid to the question of age. It being pointed out that some of the oldest judges were the most efficient.

BALDWIN IS QUITE OPTIMISTIC ABOUT EUROPE

London—Fulfilling the traditional role of principal speaker at the Guildhall, where once a year the big business men of the ancient city of London get a review of governmental affairs straight from Downing Street, Premier Stanley Baldwin declared himself an optimist about Europe, because he is a realist.

"Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy, protagonists in the struggle of the day," he said, "now meet as equals and partners to advance the cause of peace, and they look forward to the cohesiveness of our common civilization."

Mr. Baldwin paid glowing tribute to Alcide Briand, the French Foreign Minister, and Gustav Stresemann, the German Foreign Minister, as far-seeing leaders who rendered a responsible position.

All Europe honors them and renders them tribute," he added.

All Europe asks where next will a statesman be found with the courage of Stresemann, the broad humanity of Briand, what energy in the Italians, in Central or Eastern Europe, will first follow their example and earn the name."

The Prime Minister without he could speak equally happily about Russia. There were circumstances which led Great Britain to close diplomatic relations with Russia, he said. There were circumstances which prevented the United States from ever admitting of such relations.

"Whatever the Russians are prepared to observe the ordinary degree of international intercourse and abstain from interference in our domestic affairs and from a policy of hostile hostility," he continued, "they shall and it is ready to meet them in the spirit of liberality and goodwill which inspire our whole foreign policy."

CAUSE OF WORLD PEACE IS MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

St. Louis, Mo.—The United States did not let Europe down at the close of the world war, Henry Winkham, editor of the Review of Reviews, of London, England, declared at the International Goodwill Congress here.

"I confess that I have never regretted," said the noted editor, "the same way many of my fellow countrymen and millions of Europeans have resented the decision of the American people not to join the League of Nations or by entry the peace treaties. I have always felt that your people are two distinct from Europe to be able to follow, or perhaps to wish to follow, European affairs with the discernment that is indispensable if responsibility is to be incurred and as necessary to the progress of the cause of world peace has been 'considerable and very encouraging' in recent years. Sir Austen Chamberlain, in his speech on the League of Nations in Great Britain, said in a letter written to the Goodwill Congress, 'The League of Nations, as we have read by Sir H. B. Smith, chairman of the executive committee of the World Alliance.'"

"Governments in these days are the servants of their people in regard to foreign policy," he wrote, "just as much as they are in regard to domestic affairs. Progress of the cause of world peace, and consequently, the League of Nations, has been considerable and very encouraging."

"Compare the state of Europe with what it was four years ago. The progress of the League of Nations has been considerable and very encouraging. Progress of the cause of world peace, and consequently, the League of Nations, has been considerable and very encouraging."

"The League of Nations and the League of Nations have opened a new chapter in the history of Europe. Germany has been brought back into the committee of nations and the work of reconstruction and reconciliation, more especially among the weaker powers, is steadily increasing."

"Stems in such as these left by the war are not disappear quickly, but the results obtained show that we are on the right road and pretty a sober confidence in the future."

Canadian Buyers Profit by Canada's Export Trade

IN the distant reaches of Britain's far-flung empire you will find General Motors cars, built in Canada by Canadian craftsmen, from Canadian materials.

In five years over 110,000 automobiles have been sent overseas by General Motors of Canada to carry the standard of Canadian quality around the world.

This represents a truly important contribution to Canada's export trade.

It represents millions of dollars to be spent in wages to Canadian workmen, in the purchase of Canadian metals, wood, hides and the countless other materials entering into the manufacture of General Motors cars.

And it represents a greatly augmented production of General Motors of Canada, resulting in lower costs of manufacture, in economies of purchasing, in greater savings of time and labor through greater volume.

Thus, because in India, in Egypt, in Malta, Ceylon or South Africa, someone is buying a General Motors car from Canada, General Motors can offer to you, in Canada, a product of higher quality at a lower price than otherwise possible.
